COMPLIANCE

A FUNDAMENTAL PRIORITY

OUR PRODUCTS ARE SAFE AND LEGALLY AND SOCIALLY COMPLIANT.

Our experienced teams all over the world stay up to date on international requirements by dealing with the finest independent laboratories, keeping abreast of relevant information from professional associations (EPPA, etc.), attending high-profile international events, working with lawyers in several jurisdictions, and being members of a number of organisations involved in corporate social responsibility.

► TWO MAIN AREAS IN OUR COMPLIANCE POLICY

1. PRODUCT SAFETY

INTELLECTUAL / INDUSTRIAL PROPERTY

- Detailed sampling examination
- IP rights clearance
- Wherever the product will be marketed

PRODUCT SAFETY

- Legal requirements
- Environmental protection
- Legislation, applicable standards
- Compliance assurance by recognised international laboratories
- Permanent compliance programme (continuous testing)

PARTNERS FOR PRODUCT SAFETY AND SOCIAL COMPLIANCE

- SGS (product testing at origin)
- Bureau Veritas (product testing at origin and at destination markets)
- As our main partner for social compliance, INTERTEK audits our suppliers.
- Proud member of SEDEX and SMETA Audited, a non-profit membership organisation dedicated to driving improvements in responsible and ethical business practices in global supply chains.

2. SOCIAL COMPLIANCE

CSR (CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY)

- The BIC Group Code of Conduct comprises a set of professional and social principles derived from the basis of the International Labour Organisation (ILO). The Group is committed to upholding socially responsible behaviour in all of its operations. The principles are applied at all production facilities, whether owned by the Group or operated by contract manufacturers. The application of the Code of Conduct has been extended to all of our new partners, including suppliers, subcontractors and service providers, and specifies commitments concerning forced labour and human trafficking.

THE BIC CODE OF CONDUCT IS BASED ON THE FOLLOWING TEN PRINCIPLES:

- A safe and healthy work environment
- Fair wages and reasonable working hours
- No child labour
- No forced labour
- No discrimination
- Freedom of association
- Legal compliance
- No animal testing
- Environmental responsibility
- Publication of the Code

THE SIX STEPS FOR EVALUATING THE MANUFACTURER'S SOCIAL COMPLIANCE

1. The contract manufacturer signs the BIC Code of Conduct.
2. An independent external monitoring agency (or in some cases a specially trained employee) conducts an initial assessment.
3. The contract manufacturer submits a corrective action plan (CAP) to us if necessary.
4. The contract manufacturer implements the CAP within an agreed, reasonable time frame.
5. Follow-up assessment (s) to confirm implementation of the CAP.
6. Ongoing assessments (every three years).

SAFETY COMES FIRST WHEN CHOOSING A POWER BANK

► WHAT IS A POWER BANK?

It's an external battery for charging mobile and tablet devices.
There is a large range of capacities to fulfil any need.

► HOW DOES IT WORK?

- Charge your power bank at a power source before you begin.
- Charge your devices whenever you need to with the power bank universal USB cable. It comes included or you can use your own.
- No more running out of battery: energy on the go!

► WHAT ARE mAh AND mA?

Milliamperes per hour (mAh) is the measurement unit of electric charge and therefore expresses each power bank's charging capacity. Choose the capacity you need depending on your device.
Milliamperes (mA) are a measurement of current. This is used to indicate the amount of current flowing and refers to the outputs on the power bank.

81073 ANTIOX STOPPER

The AntiOx stopper is equipped with a device with a patented revolutionary system that protects the wine in the bottle from oxidation. Once a wine bottle is closed with the AntiOx Stopper, oxidation of wine is interrupted and oxidation of the wine stops and oxygen is no longer in contact with the wine, so acetic acid is not produced and the wine is not damaged. Any vinegar taste and unpleasant smells are thus avoided. For optimal performance, please keep in the bottle in vertical position.

PRINTING TECHNIQUES

A PRINTING TECHNIQUE FOR ALL YOUR LOGO REQUIREMENTS!

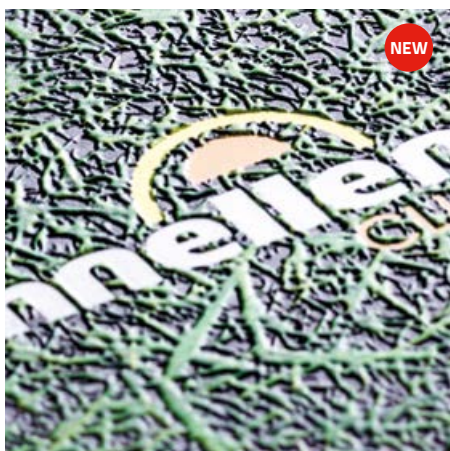

BRITEPIX™

britePix™ produces a colourful, long-lasting imprint that assures lasting impressions of your logo. This printing technique allows for truly groundbreaking superior multicolour printing capabilities for more complex, colourful logo designs.

Individualise each unit within the same order! Ask to your Customer Service Representative for the terms and conditions and make each product unique!

BRITEPIX™ TEXTURE

britePix™ Texture is a fresh new addition to our britePix™ concept: now you don't just see the full colour – you feel it! By using britePix™ Texture, we are offering you a way to simulate any desired texture on a product or emphasise a certain part of your logo or artwork and a much stronger brand statement.

Individualise each unit within the same order! Ask to your Customer Service Representative for the terms and conditions and make each product unique!

SUBLIMATION

Printing by sublimation is the process of transferring a digital imprint (image, text or a combination of both) on a special paper, a polyester item or an object with a polyester cover. If this technique is applied on a fabric surface, the fabric must contain 75% polyester (it is not possible to apply this technique on cotton surfaces).

SCREEN PRINTING

Printing technique that consists of transferring ink through a screen stretched on a frame. The ink cannot pass through the areas where there will not be an image because an emulsion or varnish will have been applied, whereas the ink can freely pass through the areas that have not been blocked. The substrate to be printed is placed under the frame in which the ink is placed that will be extended over the fabric using a rubber roller. The ink passes through the mesh in the image part and is placed on the paper or fabric. This technology can be used for a wide range of materials and products such as pens, umbrellas, rucksacks, portfolios, T-shirts and clothing.

PAD PRINTING

Printing technique that consists of a metal or plastic plate covered with a photosensitive emulsion on which the image is offset printed through a chemical process forming a gravure. This plate is covered with ink and brushed with a blade. Next, a silicon pad presses down on the plate print to collect the ink from the gravure and takes it to the piece where it will be deposited through contact. The different shapes and softness of the silicon pads allow us to deposit the ink on a large variety of substrates (flat, cylindrical, spherical, concave, convex) and materials (metal, plastic, etc.).

DEBOSSING

This technique consists of reproducing recessed designs (through depressions) on leather and PU products. This finish is obtained by heat pressing on the product that we wish to decorate by using a metal plate with the design in relief. Colours cannot be replicated with this technology.

LASER ENGRAVING

We can obtain a permanent, unchangeable and precise print with laser printing technique on different types of materials, although the best results are obtained on metal products. The laser technique allows us to eliminate the material's surface. Colours cannot be replicated using this technology. The print colour is determined by the material and/or the coat that covers the product.

DIGITAL TRANSFER

The logo is printed digitally on a thermal transfer film through a printing and cutting plotter and this film is then based on the required shape. Once the process has been completed, the logo will adhere to the product to be decorated through heat pressing. Not all logos can be adapted for use with this technology, since the print basis must be a continuous piece. Digital transfer is recommended for printing full-colour and high-resolution images when the order quantity is low. Obtaining colours that match exactly cannot be guaranteed, since it is a digital technique. There will be small variations in colour tones.

CERAMIC TRANSFER

This is a high-quality, long-lasting decorating technology that can be used on ceramics, porcelain and glass. Items decorated using this technique can be used in microwaves and dishwashers. The design is screen printed on a substrate using vitrifiable inks. By means of a conveyor, the print is placed on the piece and baked in industrial furnaces at a high temperature (800°C) in order for the special inks to vitrify. The Ceramic Transfer must be done in spot colours, not using the four-colour process. Rasterised pictures turn out very pixelated (granulated), so they should be avoided. We cannot guarantee obtaining exact colours, as slight colour variations are produced during the process.

SCREEN TRANSFER

This technique consists of silk screen printing on siliconed paper and then transfer to the product through heat pressing. It is a suitable technology for printing multiple colours on fabrics when silk screen printing is not possible due to the product design or logo that needs to be printed. This technique is used with flat inks.

DIGITAL LABEL

The logo is printed digitally on self-adhesive film through a printing and cutting plotter and this film is then based on the required shape. Once the process has been completed, the logo will adhere to the product to be decorated. Not all logos can be adapted for use with this technology, since the print basis must be a continuous piece.

DOMING

This technology consists of applying an epoxy resin to self-adhesive labels that have been previously printed to give them volume. This ensures that a label is obtained with bright volume that is nice to touch. We obtain a 3D effect.

EMBROIDERY

This technique involves multicolour decoration of flexible fabrics using a needle and yarns. The logo to be added must be redrawn to transfer it using stitches. The embroidery machine requires this information to produce the product. This technology is especially suitable for blankets, towels, bags, parkas and caps.

This will sometimes require an additional underlayer (see page 384). We will always do our utmost to achieve the colour that is the closest to the one requested. Laser engraving, embroidery, digital transfer, digital screen, transfer ceramic, screen printing, debossing and labels all have their own specific specifications.

PACKAGING

Following personalisation, products may be delivered without individual plastic bags.

SPECIAL ITEMS

- We cannot guarantee a specific colour in laser engraving.
